HELP MT. STERLING AND YOU HELP YOURSELF.

Board Of Commerce Can And Will Do Great Things For City And County.

The way some people knock Mt. Sterling one would think it was somebody else's city. But it isn't, it is their city all the while. You would think that, if there was something wrong, the city is to blame for it.

But it isn't the city that is to blame, it is the people in the city.

What they ought to do is not to complain merely, but also to correct. If the cty has anything the matter with it; if it needs some improvement, if it needs to be more of its buying at home; if it needs home pride, more of a community spirit, if it needs to develop its resources, encourage home investment, then we, the people of Mt. Sterling, must do it.

"What Mt. Sterling needs," says one man, "is another railway." Says another, "What Mt. Sterling needs is a big lot of improvements and better streets." And others have various manner of suggestions, all well meant, perhaps, but perhaps impractical, because some one is waiting for some one else to start the work. What Mt. Sterling is not to merely say what it needs. What Mt. Sterling needs to-day is men who will get the things that Mt. Sterling needs. Whatever Mt. Sterling needs it can get by presenting a solid front.

Let us decide to do something collectively for Mt. Sterling. Let us decide to do something individually, as well. In Mt. Sterling if we all get together on anything we would get more together. Mt. Sterling will grow if we let it alone—that is, it will grow petrified. We cannot very well ask others what Mt. Sterling is doing for us until we ask ourselves what we are doing for Mt. Sterling. What Mt. Sterling needs is some constructive criticism. Constructive criticism is to call attention to a hole in the fence by bringing a board and nails and a hammer and fixing it. Let's get together and really do something for Mt. Sterling, and not take it all out in talk and meetings.

Make Long Trip Alone.

Master Billy Brent Nunnellly, aged 9, and his little sister Peggy, aged 7, arrived here Saturday for a visit to their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Apperson. The two children made the trip from Bluefields, Nicaragua, unaccompanied by a grown person. Mr. and Mrs. Nunnelly put them on a fruit steamer in charge of the Captain, and aside from the Captain's wife there were no women on board or other passengers, yet these two brave little Kentuckians were undaunted and unafraid. When they arrived at New Orleans, Billy Brent sent a cable to his mother of their safe arrival, and when they started from New Orleans to this city he telegraphed a relative when to meet them. During the trip the little fellow carried their expense money in a belt around his waist, buying the tickets and meals enroute etc. When asked if he was afraid he said, "No Sir" and everybody was just grand to Peggy. Mr. Nunnelly is connected with a large fruit company and where he is located there are no schools and only a few Spanish children and Mrs. Nunnelly decided to send the children home in order that they might attend school.

When one stops to think of these two little children making this trip of thousands of miles you are bound to gasp at their risk, yet admire and love them for their courage and sympathize with the parents who were brave enough to give them up. And then we should all be proud of the fact that they are Kentuckians and that the courage that made the name of Crittenden world famous still lives in the hearts of our children. Master Billy and Miss Peggy, we salute you and we are sure that the ever watchful God who looked after and cared for you on this long trip will give renewed strength to your parents in the sacrifice they are making for your benefit in the far away Nicaragua.

ATTENTION!

All Ex-soldiers who served in the war with Spain at home or abroad, or those who saw service in the Phillipine Insurrection or the China relief expedition and their widows the late Congress passed laws of the utmost interest to above class of soldiers and if they will send name and address to Walter S. Buchanan, National Aid-de-Camp, Army and Navy Union, Route 2, Louisa, Va., he will be glad to advise you fully as to your right under the new law, prompt action will mean the possible saving of money, as the pension commences from the filing of the claim. Mr. Buchanan is also a member of the General Nelson A. Miles Camp, No. 1, United Spanish War Veterans and the President's Own Garrison, No. 104, of the Army and Navy Union, and wishes to assist his comrades in every possible manner, write him and enclose stamp for reply.

There is no man so poor as he who is rich in vain platitudes.

MRS. BEN F. MARK.

Passed To The Great Beyond At Her Home In This City Tuesday Night.

The community was shocked Wednesday morning when they learned of the sudden death of Mrs. Fannie Roberts Mark, wife of Ben F. Mark, who died suddenly at her home on Samuels avenue Tuesday night at eleven o'clock. Mrs. Mark had suffered some from indigestion for some time, but it was not considered serious. On Monday she spent the day in the country with her son, Fisher Mark, and seemed to be in good spirits. She was stricken Tuesday evening, when several doctors were called and efforts were made to relieve her but nothing could be done and the end came in a short time.

The news of Mrs. Mark's death will be regretted by her many friends. She was a member of the Christian church and always took a great deal of interest in all church work, always giving freely her time and means to all good causes, for the benefit of all whom she loved.

Mrs. Mark was, before her marriage, Miss Fannie Roberts, and spent her entire life in this county. She is survived by her husband and one son, Fisher Mark, of this county, and three sisters, Mrs. Ann Priest, Mrs. Mary E. Scott and Miss Emily Roberts. The Sentinel-Democrat extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Funeral services were held at her late home Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, with burial in Machpelah cemetery. Services conducted by Rev. Clyde Darise of the Christian church.

Notice To Taxpayers.

We are frequently asked the meaning of the new law made by the last Legislature regarding the assessment of property. The law requires us to keep our office open but does not require the tax payers to come to the office until we have been to see them, and in their absence have left a notice. It then becomes the tax payer's absolute duty to call at the office at the time mentioned in the notice, and in case he does not call his name will be referred to the Board of Supervisors, and is at this time subject to a penalty. I think the majority prefer to call at the office and list their property, and I wish to impress it upon you that we prefer for you to do it, because the law compels us to keep the office open, and further we can take a much more accurate list where we have all records close at hand. Heretofore I have mailed notices but will not do so this year, only in a few instances toward the last.

I insists that you come at your earliest convenience. If you will do so you will not be bothered with us calling when you are busy with other matters, and at the same time will assist us in making a better and more prompt assessment.

Thanking you in advance for an early call at my office.

H. F. Howell,
Tax Commissioner.

Notice To Customers.

All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to me will please call and settle at once. The change in business makes this absolutely necessary.

Respectfully,
(27-3t) E. V. Browning.

Death Comes To Mrs. Turner.

The death Angel came into our midst last Friday afternoon and took from those who loved her, to "that home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens," the spirit of Mrs. Alice Reed Turner.

Mrs. Turner had been practically an invalid for the past two years, but in spite of her suffering she still retained the sweet, pleasant disposition and manner that had made her a favorite with everyone during the years she enjoyed good healthh.

Mrs. Turner was a daughter of Garnett and Mrs. Cynthia Reed and had spent practically her entire life in this city. When quite a young girl she joined the Baptist church and was a faithful, conscientious christian woman.

She was the widow of the late Joe R. Turner, who died about twenty years ago. A woman possessing those sweet attributes of character and personality that go toward making the true woman she was, respected and admired by all who knew her, and the news of her death caused sorrow to many.

Deceased is survived by her mother who is nearly 90 years of age and four sisters, Mrs. Jennie Robinson, Mrs. Emma Chenault, Mrs. W. R. Thompson and Miss Nannie Reed of this city, and one brother, William Reed, of Seattle, Washington. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. C. Goldsmith Sunday morning, with burial in Machpelah cemetery.

We tender our sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family and especially does our heart go out to the aged mother, but we are confident that the Lord she has loved and served through all these years will give her strength to bear her sorrow.

Rural Carrier Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Montgomery county, Ky., to be held at Mt. Sterling on August 14, 1920, to fill the position of rural carrier at Levee and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above mentioned county. The examination will be open only to people who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of elgibles. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointment unless they are the widows of U. S. soldiers, sailors, or marines, or the wives of U. S. soldiers, sailors, or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. Form No. 1977 and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Application should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

Entertain Friends.

Miss Catherine Earl Vanarsdell entertained a number of girl friends Monday evening with a six o'clock dinner and spend night at the home of her parents on Apperson Heights Monday. A most pleasant time was enjoyed by all present.

LEXINGTON DAY

At Montgomery County Fair Will Be Celebrated July 21.

Wednesday, July 21, will be Lexington day at the Montgomery county fair, according to information received today by the Board of Commerce from W. Hoffman Wood, secretary of the fair. Mr. Wood urges Lexington to send a big delegation to the fair, to "meet old friends and make new ones," and hopes there will be a big crowd.

Lexington business men remember with pleasure the greeting given them on their tour of Northern Kentucky when they reached Mt. Sterling and it is probable a big crowd will go to the Montgomery fair on the day set apart for the Lexington people.—Lexington Leader.

Fair Next Week.

The Big Montgomery County Fair starts next week and Secretary Wood has informed us that indications are that the fair will be the largest attended since the organization was formed. He has been busy answering inquiries from surounding counties regarding floral hall exhibits. The Mt. Sterling Derby, worth $500.00, the first day, has drawn a number of entries and reports from Latonia, Louisville and Lexington say that there will be from 60 to 70 runners here for the fair.

Mr. Wood reports several horses for the harness races already here and predicts the best racing program ever witnessed here.

The Board of Commerce passed a resolution Wednesday to get back of the fair and to boost it in every way possible as every business man realizes that it is one of the best drawing cards the city has. Make it a point to attend the fair every day if you possibly can.

Slaughter House To Re-Open

Ed Hon has leased the slaughter house of S. P. Greenwade on the Hinkston pike and is prepared to furnish fresh meats at wholesale prices to merchants. The slaughter house has been closed for several years and our merchants have been handling nothing but Armour and Swift meats in that time. Mr. Hon has been assured by the local merchants that they will patronize him. We hope the merchants will patronize him as the enterprise is a good one.

Directors Are Elected.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Club Rooms of the Country Womens Club Wednesday the following directors were elected: O. W. McCormick, C. C. Chenault, Robt. Collier, C. B. Patterson and G. B. Senff. These gentlemen with President, H. G. Hoffman, Vice President, P. D. Bryan, Secy., S. C. Sharpe and Treasurer, John H. Keller, will have charge of the activities of the organization for the next year, and will appoint various committees to do special work outlined by the organization. About fifty men enjoyed the delightful lunch served by the ladies of the Country Club. With an organization such as the Board of Commerce promises to be, back of any movement for the benefit of the city and county we look for great things to be accomplished. We would like to see every business and professional man of the city and every farmer of the county, members of the Board of Commerce and when the drive for membership is made we hope every one who has the good of the community at heart will sign a membership card. Let's all pull together for Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county. We know we have the best city and county in the state and let's convince the other fellow of the fact.

Marries Eastern Girl.

Mr. Byron D. Hall, of this city, and Miss Mary McGuigan, of Philadelphia, were married in that city June 30, 1920. This was a complete surprise to Mr. Hall's many friends here as no one knew about it until their return here Saturday.

Mr. Hall is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Hall of this county, ex-Postmaster, and is a very popular young man and a very industrious young farmer. He was one of the first of Montgomery county's boys to enlist in the service, having served more than two years in the U. S. Navy. It was while in the service that he met his bride. She was also doing war work, being a yeomaness in the Navy, in the Philadelphia Navy yards. The bride is said to be a very attractive and talented young woman.

They returned from their bridal trip Saturday and are making their home with the groom's grandmother near the Levee this county, until October when they will get possession of his father's farm near town where they will make their future home.

We extend our best wishes for a long and happy married life.

The man who thinks the country is being run just as good as he could run it himself can be safely classed as a conservative.

THE STORY OF JIGGS

By George McManus.

"Jiggs" was born in Ireland.

He came to this country expecting to find gold on the streets of New York, but found bricks and cobblestones instead. He became a hod-carrier.

Romance came into his life when he met "Maggie," a waitress at a small cafe, who put heaping dishes of corned beef and cabbage before him. They were married.

"Jiggs" became thrifty. Instead of carying bricks he bought and sold them on commission. Then he manufactured them. Street brawls in the old days in New York, provided a great market for "Jiggs" bricks, which were harder than ordinary bricks. He grew rich.

At this point in his career Maggie and their daughter Nora changed their viewpoint of life. Society counts, dukes and college professors became their idols.

But "Jiggs" stuck to his clay pipe and continued to smack his lips at the thought of corned beef and cabbage.

"Jiggs" didn't forget his former pals. Pinochle parties at "Dinty Moore's" formed "Jiggs" idea of Utopia.

But Maggie opposed "Jiggs" low-brow ideas and started to make her arguments clear by hurling rolling pins, cases, pots, pans and furniture at the offender.

And so they continued to live their lives, "Jiggs" longing for them good old days" and Maggie for a bid to Count de Spoof's ball.

Despite the fact that Maggie has almost destroyed their wedding set by using the dishes as missiles, deep down in her heart she still loves "Jiggs."

Camel CIGARETTES

Public Spending Less.

According to statements issued by the United States Treasury Department, people are rapidly getting over their postwar extravagance. It is noticeable throughout the retail world, that people are buying with less frequency and greater discrimination. It is to this fact that the economists are ascribing the threatened fall in price, said to be a near certainty. Aparently, the public has only just begun to rouse to the fact that high prices are directly traceable to its own desire to get rid of money, and they will fall only when the public itself gets tired of paying excessive prices throw-away good money.

An Unusual Will.

Either T. Joe Fisher, clerk of courts, at Cheyenne, Wyoming, is taking reckless liberties with the reputation for veracity to which he has been consistent during about fifty years in public office, for there has been filed in office a last will and testament which provides, among other things, that a bottle of "prime whisky" shall be buried with the testator, and that each of his two sons shall receive from his estate "three cases of fairly good rye, which I managed to hold onto.

"I desire that all my lawful debts shall be paid," says the will, "including my funeral expenses and unpaid bills for two cases of Bourbon, five bottles of gin and three bottles of rye, which will be found among my effects unless the mourners should happen to get to them first."

Another clause of the will reads:

"To my beloved wife, who has stood by me all these years, and who has often been just as thirsty as I was, I hereby bequeath all my 16-year-old stock, which will be found behind a secret panel near the fireplace in the library. Also, in token of my love and affection, she shall have the last three bottles of Scotch which are secreted in the piano."

After providing generously for the sons—to the extent of three cases of rye each—and for the placing of a pint of liquor in the coffin of the testator, the will concludes:

"The remainder of my estate shall be turned over to my relatives, to quarrel over as they see fit."

Dealers Report Fine Yield Blue Grass Seed.

The total quantity of commercial Kentucky Blue Grass seed that was harvested this year promises to be equal to or slightly greater than last year. Weather coditions during the past few weeks have been favorable for the cutting and maturing of the seed. Stripping began around June 15 and the seed was of heavy weight and high germination.

A slightly decreased acreage of Kentucky Bluegrass was harvested for seed in Kentucky this year because some of the Blue Grass meadows have been plowed and planted to tobacco and corn, which crops are considered at this time to be more remunerative. The favorable weather during the past few weeks has been conductive to the proper development and ripening of the seed and the indications are that the quality of this year's seed will be superior to that of last year.

The 1919 crop seed was light and chaffy because of the freeze the last of April and first of May and because of the hot, dry weather just before stripping was begun. The production in this section last year is estimated to have been 350,000 bushels stripped seed, which cleaned out out only about 55 or 60 per cent. by weight.

This year, however, because of a prospective increase of about 33 1-3 per cent. in the yield per care it is estimated that the total production will be 425,000 bushels, which should clean out about 65 or 70 per cent. by weight. Based on these figures the production of recleaned seed this year will be about 35 per cent. greater than in 1916. No price has been established for the rough seed as practically no contracts have been made. Shippers would buy the rough seed at $1.50 per bushel, but growers state that because of the advance in the price of land, equipment, and labor they must receive a higher price than last year, which was $1.50 to $1.65 per bushel.

A conscience needs exercise to keep it in a healthy condition.

Disabled Service Men In Training For New Jobs

In a statement issued by the United States Civil Service Commission, it is said that the rehabilitation branch of the Federal Board for Vocational Education has nearly 50,000 men in training to overcome the handicaps resulting from war injuries and thereby to become again self-supporting.

A large proportion of these men are in training in commercial, trade, and agricultural schools. It is stated that training assistants qualified in these branches of education are urgently needed by the vocational board in order that the work may be properly supervised, followed up, and connected with satisfactory employment outlets. It is said that a large number of positions can be offered to properly qualified persons at initial salaries not in excess of $2,400 a year.

Applicants must have an education equivalent to graduation from a standard high school, and in addition not less than two years' training in college or normal school. An additional requirement is at least one years' experience in teaching in a high agricultural, or industrial school; or in trade, industry, or agriculture; or as commissioned officer in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps.

The Civil Service Commission states that it will receive applications for these positions until further notice.

Same Thing Here.

The Flemingsburg Times-Democrat makes complaint of a condition of things that obtains here as well as in Flemingsburg, and which has caused no end of comment here. The Times-Democrat says:

"We call the attention of the officers of the law to the fact that children under fourteen are not allowed to play the chauffeur, and those under sixteen are only allowed to do so when accompanied by their parents or others of the age of discretion. We see boys of a very tender-looking age driving big machines, and while we do not know they are under the legal age, we think so very strongly. It would be better to stop this before some bad accident happens to these kid drivers."

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are authorized to announce
JUDGE H. R. PREWITT
as a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Judge for this Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August primary, 1920.

We are authorized to announce
HON. JOHN G. WINN
as a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Judge for this Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August primary, 1920.

Judge H. Clay McKee.

We are authorized by our fellow townsman, Judge H. Clay McKee, to announce him as a Republican candidate for Congress, in this the Ninth Congressional District, at the approaching August primary.

Judge McKee needs no introduction at our hands to the voters of this district, as he is widely known, being a lawyer of ability, a ready speaker and progressive business man. In all public enterprises he has contributed liberally of his time and means, whether he happened to benefit directly or not, and has done as much, if not more, than any other man in our city to build it up.

There are a number of candidates for this honor and the district is a large one, but Judge McKee is making an active campaign and his friends confidently assert he has a splendid chance to land the nomination.

We commend his candidacy to his fellow-Republicans and ask that they give his claims their serious consideration.

Cox Boosters Are Busy.

All indications point to a memorable launching of the Democratic Presidential campaign in Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county next Monday afternoon, July 19, at the Court House in this city, when Judge Samuel M. Wilson, of Lexington, will fire the opening gun for Cox and Roosevelt in one of his characteristically forceful and eloquent addresses. The program of the event contemplates an old-fashioned Democratic rally and a large attendance is anticipated.

Judge Wilson will speak immediately following the permanent organization of the First Cox and Roosevelt campaign club of Kentucky, the temporary organization of which was effected within three hours after the nomination of Governor James M. Cox for President at San Francisco, when a telegram of congratulation was sent to the Governor, advising him of what had been done.

Governor Cox has responded in a message of thanks and encouragement to the Democracy of Montgomery county, which will be read at Monday's meeting.

The temporary officers of the club, consisting of Webster P. Huntington, president; C. B. Patterson, vice-president; Robert L. Coleman, secretary and Albert Hazelrigg, treasurer, were informally chosen only in order to effect a preliminary organization, and their permanent successors will be elected Monday, and other necessary steps taken to make the club a factor for Democratic success in Kentucky and the nation.

The meeting will be called to order at 1:30 o'clock, P. M., in the county court room. All voters in attendance will be privileged to become charter members of the First Cox and Roosevelt Campaign Club of Kentucky. Arrangements are being made for appropriate music. Ladies are especially invited to attend.

Judge Wilson's address will be of more than local importance. No student of present day problems is better informed concerning the isues of the campaign, and few of Kentucky's famous orators have rivalled him as an exponent of Democratic principles.

The future vim and vigor of the presidential campaign on the Democratic side in this section will be largely affected by this meeting, and every Democrat is urged to attend.

Raising The Lusitania.

(Cincinnati Times-Star.)

The undertaking of a French salvage company to raise the Lusitania from her tragic grave off the British coast has aroused mixed feelings throughout the Allied countries. One section of the people looking upon the Lusitania as a solemn tomb, prefers to have the great ship remain with her dead and her treasure at the bottom of the sea. Another portion of the public wants the Lusitania raised in oredr that this victim of German frightfulness may be redeemed in honor. A third part of the public is moved by the more mercenary view. The Lusitania and her heaps of gold and jewels, they say, should not be lost to the world.

If the French succeed in raising the ship, they will have performed an unprecedented feat of sub-sea salvage. It is planned to cut the giant craft into five sections and to raise each by means of compressed air. With average weather the work may be done in a year's time.

There is no certainty whatever that the Lusitania ever again will sail the seas. But if science and human pluck again should bring her to the top and rededicate her to the service of man, no ship ever will have provoked deeper emotions than this one as she revisits her old ports of call. She will be a ghost materialized into fact.

Man Of Mystery Savior Of East.

Bombay.—Merchants and others arriving from Persia are full of stories of an aged Englishman who suddenly appeared on the horizon in mid-Asia, and is credited with being the author of the various anti-Bolshevik treaties recently made among the Caucasian States.

By means, which the Persians consider miraculous, this officer induced the Georgians, Tartars, Armenians and Persians to put aside their differences in order to combine against a common enemy. He has even, it is asserted, been responsible for starting among the Kurds some kind of movement which will enable them to act,if necessary, in concert with the Armenians.

This last is considered the most extraordinary feat of all, for the antagonism between the Kurds and the Armenians has existed almost since the dawn of history.

The Persians say of the English officer that God has given him the greatest gift of tongues so that no matter in what language he is addressed he can reply to it, and that is one of the chief reasons why he is able to sway the medley of tongues and races that inhabit the Caucasus and the regions below.

The Persians call this Englishman "Colonel Wardrop," and assert that he arrived at Tiflis about two years ago with instructions and authority from the War Office. There is no Colonel Wardrop in the army list.

The mysterious diplomat is known as the Hakim Siasi, which means politicial officer, and in the Persian all politicial officers are Colonels. There was, however, some years ago in the British Consular Service a certain Wardrop, who had spent his time in Petrogad, Moscow and Rumania, and who, about twenty years ago wrote a book on the Georgian Highland.

This man retired in 1910, and because of a remarkable aptitude for languages, was appointed an educational advisor to the City of London College.

When war broke out he was employed because of his knowledge of Russian, in the Foreign Office, and it known that he was sent to Moscow in 1917. He may be the man.

If so, an unknown man, who eleven years ago considered his life work done, is now displaying a genius and a resource which England hears are likely to place him in the front rank of empire builders.

Eastern profs. are getting it figured out so that by following a well laid out plan a person can live on 25 cents a day. Some of them will figure it out pretty soon so a man can read over a bill of fare and satisfy his stomach by swallowing his words.

Those who live the most are not the ones who live the fastest.

Predicts Fall In Price Of Flour.

At the first day's session of the Community Millers' Association of America, held in Cincinnati, recently, there was a difference of opinion as to the future price of flour between Governor James M. Cox, who addressed the meeting, and C. W. Bansford, of Owensboro, Ky., president of the association.

Mr. Bansford in his address had said that he expected the price of wheat to decline to $2.50 a bushel in September, when the next crop came in and in this decrease, he said, should mean lower prices for bread and flour. Gevernor Cox said:

"Unless something is done to stop the tide of labor running from the farms to the cities, you millers will not have enough wheat to grind into flour and there will be ultimately a near approach to a food panic."

Gov Cox gave as his remedy for the farm to city movement the building of better schools.

Before the convention opened, R. D. Collins, of Windsor, Minn., a governor for the northwest district of the association said that if he was to hazard a guess as to whether the price of bread would go up or down in the future, he would guess that it would advance.

IRVIN S. COBB SAYS

Harding Never Had An Original Idea.

(HOPKINSVILLE NEW ERA

Resting between national conventions, Irvin S. Cobb is spending a few days "back home" in Paducah. Delightfully interviewed by Elliott Mitchell, of the Sun, at Will Gilbert's corner drug store, the famous humorist painted, warts and all, a vivid portrait of Warren Gamaliel Harding.

"Harding is a docile, well-behaved, kindly soul who'll never rock the boat," he declared. "He's a composite picture of all the statesmen who ever lived, and would do justice to any wax figure manufacturer. He's really a very handsome stuffed shirt. To the roots of his hair he resembles Henry Clay, but there the resemblance stops. If he ever finds a good dandrufl cure he'd lose his politicial standing. Why was he nominated? Why, because he's from a State that breeds a race of men that look like statesmen and run for president. He never had an original idea in his life and wouldn't know what to do with one if he had it until he had consulted Penrose. If he happened on to one he would take it before his chief and laying it at his feet would say, I too have not been idle. Here is an idea. What shall I do with it?"

"He is smart enough to keep his mouth shut and stupid enough to make the dullest, most noncommittal speech a politician ever tried to make. But he makes it with such an air that it doesn't seem dull until you think it over and find that he didn't say a thing."

Farmer Severely Injured.

J. C. Graves received a very painful injury Tuesday while driving a wheat binder, he lost his balance and fell upon a large oil can, his hand striking the sharp spout which went through the palm of the hand and caused a very painful injury.

RELIGIOUS.

Union services will be held at the Baptist church Sunday evening. The services will be conducted by the Rev. J. L. Clark, pastor of the Methodist church.

Why The Wild Cat Is Wild.

In spite of many academic discussions, nobody cares what really makes the wild cat wild, because the wild cat is no good even when he is tame. But is makes all the difference in the world whether useful live stock is trained or wild. The finest colt in the world, product of the best draft stock, is of little use to a farmer unless he has been brcken to harness, is bridle wise and tractable.

A cow may be a champion milk producer, but she is of comparatively little value if nobody can milk her. A setter may carry the blue blood of Count Gladstone and have a nose for birds that is unequalled but nobody wants to hunt behind him unless he has felt the jolt of the trainers choke line and learned not only to find birds but give his owner an opportunity to bag them.

It is exactly the same way with dollars. They are as numerous as the herds of wild horses and buffalo that used to roam the plains of the west and just about as useful. If you capture them, all you can do with them is lock them up in a cage to keep them from getting out, destroying your financial fences and trmpling your garden plots. You cannot even handle them without their getting away or doing you some harm.

Hog Commits Suicide.

A young hog in Scott county committed suicide. A shoat weighing 100 pounds, belonging to Cavanaugh Hughes, of Hinton, picked up the butcher knife in its mouth. Mr. Hughes chased the animal when it took to its heels and dropped the knife as it started up the bank. The but hit the ground first and the point entered the exact spot where hogs are stuck in butchering. Within three minutes the animal was dead.

The automobile industry is doing much for labor. It gives direct employment to about two million people, besides doing considerable in the way of lessening the number of people wanting jobs.
